

February 28, 2011

Dear St. Monica Families,

¡Hola! Me llamo Señora Jenny Anthes. I will be the middle school Spanish teacher for the remainder of the school year while Señora Stephanie Jaramillo is on maternity leave. During the past two weeks, I have met most of the middle school students while substitute teaching at St. Monica. I am looking forward to continuing their Spanish education this spring semester.

¿Qué va a cambiar? What is going to change? ☞ Señora Jaramillo and I will follow the same lesson plans to continue Spanish class with few changes. Students will have class participation points, homework and quizzes. Señora Jaramillo y Señora Anthes will work together to finalize third quarter grades. Parents will be able to reach me via the St. Monica voicemail and email for Señora Jaramillo.

¿De dónde es la maestra nueva? Where is the new teacher from? ☞ I have been teaching Spanish classes in public and parochial schools for the past three years. Señora Jaramillo recommended me for the substitute Spanish position at St. Monica. My Spanish background includes a Bachelor of Arts in Spanish from UW-Stevens Point and a Certificate of Completion from the University of Valladolid, Spain. I have an Education Degree with Spanish Teaching Certification from Mt. Mary College in Milwaukee.

¿Cómo es ella? What is she like? ☞ I am married to my wonderful husband Brian. We have three young boys: Nathan (10), Kyle (8) and Daniel (5). We are active members of Holy Apostles Parish and School in New Berlin. We spend most of our evenings and weekends at soccer tournaments, basketball games and Cub Scout activities. When I'm not teaching Spanish, I keep busy at the local soccer parks. I am a licensed youth coach, tournament coordinator and women's league player.

Hasta pronto,

Señora Jenny Anthes