Today's adolescent youth have access to just about anything. Being a teen, or the parent of a teen, can be complex. Peer pressure and other pressures, can lure teens into the drug world, often with no easy escape. This presentation will deliver timely information about current drug trends in our community, and simple ways to recognize drug impairment. You will be amazed at some of the substances being abused by kids! Serving as School Resource Officer for 8 years in the Nicolet High School District, Officer Gscheidmeier will share his experiences, knowledge, and ways you can feel confident in knowing if a youth is abusing substances.
