

Looking for Volunteers

Needed: Students Aged 6-11 Years

My name is Rachel Krejci and I am a first year doctoral student at UWM in school psychology. I am learning how to administer, score, and interpret cognitive assessments. I need to practice giving these tests to children and am looking for some parent/child volunteers. The assessment is interactive (not paper/pencil). I can give the assessment at the location most convenient to you and will provide compensation. Parents will need to sign a consent form and all information will be kept confidential. If interested, please contact me directly:
