

ADVENTURES in America

Give your family a true European experience this summer by hosting a student from Spain or France! Academic Adventures in America, a reputable, non-profit student exchange organization, is seeking host families for Spanish and French middle school and high school students who will be visiting the USA:

Spanish Students • 3 wks: July 6th - July 27th, 2010

French Students • 3 wks: July 2nd - July 23rd, 2010

You do NOT need to speak French or Spanish to participate! The students have studied English in school and are coming to learn more about American culture by living with an American family. Your role as a participating family is simply to be yourselves with one extra “family member” on board. Please consider opening your heart & home to this wonderful and very rewarding experience. Help make a European student’s dream come true and give your own family an unparalleled international experience.

“Meeting Alba and getting to know her family via the internet has enriched our lives in ways we never anticipated. The three weeks flew by far too quickly!”
